

Kerosene Purchased From May 1, 2008 Until August 19, 2008
May Be Dangerous And Should Not Be Used

Pittsburgh Terminals Corp., a Pennsylvania company, has discovered a possible malfunction in a valve that may have contaminated kerosene distributed between May 1, 2008 and August 19, 2008 in the following geographic areas: all of western Pennsylvania; eastern Ohio; northern West Virginia; and the southwestern border of New York.

THE KEROSENE MAY BE CONTAMINATED WITH GASOLINE, CREATING A RISK OF FIRE OR EXPLOSION.

Anyone who purchased kerosene from a retailer within the geographic areas noted above and between May 1, 2008 and August 19, 2008 should not use the kerosene. Instead, the kerosene should be returned immediately to the place of purchase for a full refund or replacement of the kerosene and the returned container.

This notice is voluntarily issued by Pittsburgh Terminals Corp. to ensure the safety of its consumers. For more information about this important notice and how to properly dispose of this possibly contaminated kerosene, please call (717) 939-0466 or email KeroseneRecall@ppcTerminals.com.
